

ABOUT US

Computer Solutions Of Rome formerly known as RDT Sales has been in business since 1980 as a local store.

I became involved with computers and software development as a business around 1990 and started selling computers and software from my local store

In 1997, we changed our focus to helping businesses and individuals with their computer needs.

In 1998, we changed our focus to website development and promotion and have not looked back since.

We now design and promote websites for several local companies as well as operate numerous online businesses ourselves.

Our rates for website development are very reasonable and we offer affordable maintenance plans for existing websites to meet everyone's needs.

In 1998 we changed focus to website development and promotion and have not looked back since.

If you need more information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Helping Area Businesses
Build A Brighter Future
Using The Internet.

THE FUTURE IS NOW.

More and more people are looking to the web for their needs today than ever before in the history of the Internet.

It is time that we as businesses realized the potential of the web and use it to our advantage.

Advertising on the web not only helps you gain recognition locally but opens up a whole new world of possibilities to your business.

Let us help make that transition to the web painless and easy.

We can give you an online presence even if you do not have a website.

We will promote all businesses locally in print as well as on the web.

When we promote our website to the search engines on the web we will also be promoting your website and business as well by creating more and more links for you which equates to more visibility for your business

Our local print campaign will include newspaper and small paper ads as well as a publication, which we will be publishing quarterly for potential customers to pick up at local businesses. These publications will have ads and articles of interest to the community to insure the potential customers will read them through and through.

These quarterly publications will coincide with events such as Easter, July 4th, Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

HOW DOES IT WORK

We promote our website in multiple search engines and other online areas to draw people to the site. This generates not only local but also national visibility to you and your business.

We promote our website in multiple search engines and online areas to draw people to the site.

Along with the web promotion we will promote our site locally in publications, businesses, and storefronts that will allow us to post information about us.

Word of mouth is one of the best forms of promotion so we will use every opportunity to spread the word throughout our area.

Newsletter promotion online will be done monthly to everyone who signs up for our online newsletter. We will take the time to promote our listings through these newsletters as well as coupons from our listings and area happenings.
